

Here's a list of the species and events that you can record for Nature's Calendar. This list has been carefully selected by scientists to help us understand how wildlife is affected by weather and climate change.

Trees and Shrubs

Nature's Calendar

naturescalendar.woodlandtrust.org.uk

JAN	FEB	MAR	APR	MAY	JUN	JUL	AUG	SEP	OCT	NOV	DEC
-----	-----	-----	-----	-----	-----	-----	-----	-----	-----	-----	-----

Flowers

Bluebell			First flowering
Colt's-foot		First flowering
Cuckoo flower			First flowering
Garlic mustard			First flowering
Lesser celandine	First flowering
Oxeye daisy				First flowering
Snowdrop	First flowering
Wood anemone		First flowering
Ivy								First flowering

Grasses and Fungi

Cocksfoot			First flowering
Meadow foxtail			First flowering
Timothy			First flowering
Yorkshire fog			First flowering
Lawn	First cut								Last cut
Fly agaric							First recorded

Birds

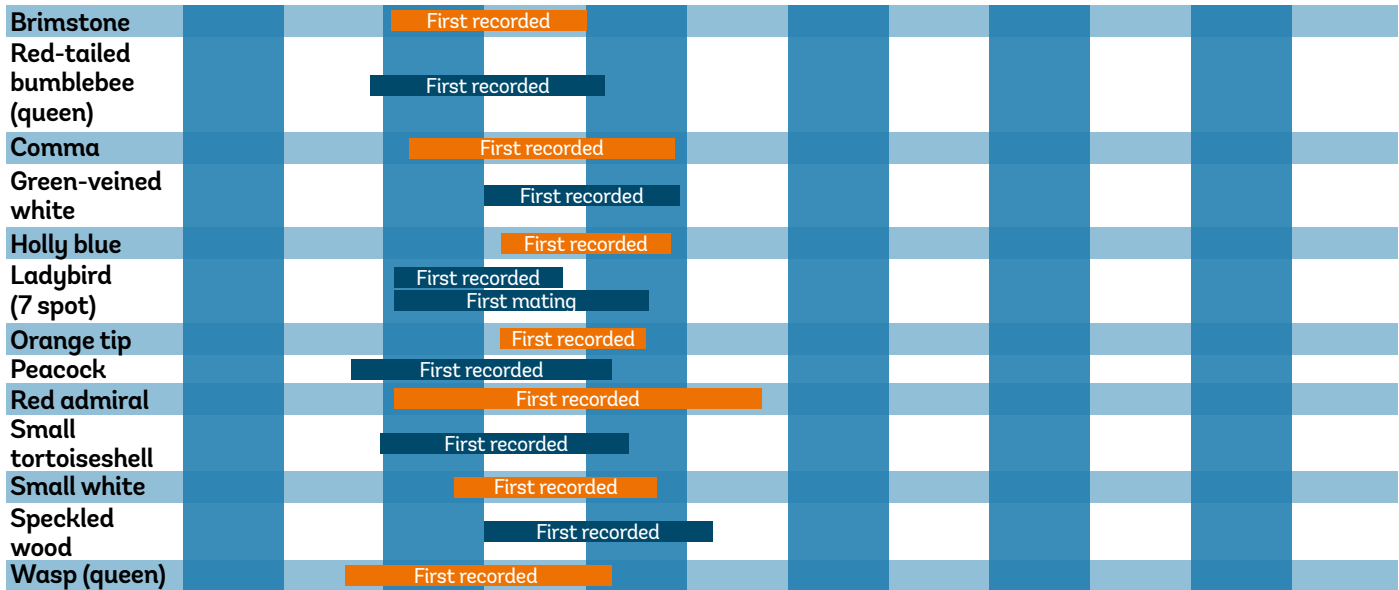

Blackbird		First nest building	First feeding young	Juvenile first recorded
Blackcap		First recorded
Blue tit		First nest building	First feeding young
Chiffchaff		First recorded
Cuckoo			First recorded
Fieldfare	Last recorded							First recorded
Great tit		First nest building	First feeding young
House martin			First recorded				Last recorded
Nightingale			First recorded
Redwing	Last recorded							First recorded
Rook	First nest building
Sand martin		First recorded
Song thrush	Singing first heard
Spotted flycatcher			First recorded
Swallow			First recorded					Last recorded
Swift			First recorded				Last recorded
Turtle dove			First recorded
Wheatear		First recorded
Whitethroat			First recorded
Willow warbler			First recorded

Nature's Calendar

naturescalendar.woodlandtrust.org.uk

Insects

Amphibians

